I have been living in London for the past three years, in which I have completed my BA in International Studies at Goldsmiths, while working part-time jobs to maintain myself. My interest is in understanding the complexities of our current world and its history; my passion is in imagining the world of tomorrow and trying to come up with ways of walking towards it. I am looking for a meaningful work experience that will put my abilities to test and help me gain new ones. I am ready to give my best.

WORK HISTORY

Southbank Centre | Retail Assistant | November 2016 to *current

For the last year I have been working in the commercial department of the Southbank Centre, one of London's most well-loved art and cultural institutions. As part of my role I have worked in product research, visual merchandising, customer service, administrative duties and project design.

Adelphi Theatre | Front of House | April 2016 to November 2016

Prior to Southbank, I worked in this emblematic West End theatre. It was a very interesting experience to be a part of London's musical theatre tradition. My duties there were those of usher, door person, barista and others related to front-of-house work.

Behostels Barcelona | Receptionist | January 2015 to August 2015

I was a receptionist in a backpackers' hostel right in the heart of the old town of Barcelona for over half a year. I would be the only member of staff during my shift, which meant I was tasked with everything from checking-in guests to doing IT work, doing PR for touristic activities and night clubs, ensuring safety and cleanliness and managing complaints.
